Jurassic World Roars Into Universal Studios

Calling all dinosaur fans! After much anticipation, the iconic “Jurassic Park” ride at Universal Studios Hollywood has reopened with a rebranding to reflect the new era of the “Jurassic World” blockbuster franchise.

Inspired by Universal Pictures and Amblin Entertainment’s dinosaur films, this spectacular new thrill ride features the film’s stars, Chris Pratt, Bryce Dallas Howard and BD Wong, who reprise their roles as Owen Grady, Claire Dearing and Dr. Henry Wu. With their guidance, riders will soar to new heights with the addition of iconic dinosaurs from the movie, including the colossal Indominus rex and the magnificent aquatic Mosasaurus.

Die-hard fans will be reassured that the iconic waterfall drop from the original “Jurassic Park” still remains.

“Jurassic World—The Ride” captures the essence of the blockbuster movies and comes to life in collaboration with the award-winning and inspired minds at Universal Creative, the Academy Award®-winning special-effects visionaries at Industrial Light & Magic, a division of Lucasfilm, Ltd., Universal Pictures and acclaimed filmmakers Steven Spielberg, Colin Trevorrow and Frank the entire experience. Plus, a new interactive “Dino Play” area is designed to inspire children of all ages to explore and excavate giant dinosaur fossils.

Those looking to refuel can stop by for Costa Rican-inspired cuisine and flavorful Tiki cocktails served at the newly renovated Jurassic Café and all-new tropical Isla Nu-bar.

There are also an array of souvenir collectibles, limited edition and one-of-a-kind dimensional dinosaur sculptures from the Jurassic Outfitters store that invite guests to savor a piece of this exciting thrill ride even after they have gone home.

With so much to see and do at Universal Studios Hollywood, the California Neighbor Pass invites guests to experience 175 days of fun for $149 when purchased online. Visit www.UniversalStudiosHollywood.com for more details. Blackout dates and restrictions apply.
